STEELE & CONNER.

[From the Odessa Democrat. The Odessa Democrat would have the Democrats of Lafayette to believe of 4,000. It is the northern terminus that a debt of gratitude is due to of the Carson & Colorado R R., which tried and the judge instructed the jury to Messrs, Conner and Steele, which can runs south from Reno through Nevada only be required by giving them a life lease upon the party, no matter their nominations were obtained. How does that sort of thing sit with those who have done more for the party and received less of the good things which it has to bestow ?—Higginsville Post. The Odessa Democrat has not said word about giving any man a "hfe lease upon the party," or anything like it. It has said and still says that both Mr. ful officials, and that they have render-ed important aid to the Democratic party; that the party had repaid them The Old Men's Club of Lafayette by nominating them for a fourth term for office.

As to the manner of obtaining their nominations the Post intimates that they were unfairly obtained, but fails to point out in what the unfairness con-There were present the following sists. They were candidates at the primary election just as Ryland, Gordon Warren and others were, without one particle of advantage more than a more extended acquaintance with the people would give them, and for which no highest political place in our governplame can attach to them.

The solicitude of the Post about those overcome him. In going the next fifty members of the Democratic party whom it asserts have done as much or reach Sacramento, which is only 40 feet Steele, and "received less of the good things to you that the traveler to Calithings which it has to bestow," is as fornia even in this day of railroads and pure a case of mock sympathy as we other facilities has many up and downs to go ere he completes his journey. But not like his forerunner of 1849, he Your sympathy for any democrat for not getting an office is altogether feigned. If you can only cause resentment enough to rankle in the breast of nough democrats to scratch Steele and conner and vote for their opponent our crocodile tears over neglected emocrats would dry up in ten seconds. The people nominated Siecle and conner just as fairly and just as certainly as they did any other men on the ticket, and they will just as certainly elect them as they will the rest of the ticket. The effors being made to defeat them by the republican press will this writing, it is as follows: He was only inspire all true democrats to work the harder to give them a larger major ity. The attacks that are being made especially on the two gentlemen above named show that they are very much the mail by a man of name the of Fickle, In the way of the republican leaders.

DR. M'ANALLY ON TEMPERANCE.

[Christian Advocate.]

The temperance friends in Missouri are working earnestly to have the question of prohibition submitted to a ote of the people with a view and hope of obtaining such an opportunity from the next legislature, and then voting directly on the question. All dry and yellow. I mentioned this fact this is well enough in a tree country, but we can give them an unpatented ncopyrighted plan for obtaining prohibition right at once—it is for every man to enact a prohibitory law for himelf and keep it. Then the work done. "They will not do it." Then i majority attempt to control a minori y, as the doctrine is in this country, the oust deal fairly and justly, and as kindy as possible.

To reach this elevaful "Truckee," crossing and re-crossing scent began, which continues gradually for a few miles until we find ourselves at the elevation of 3,600, when suddenly we start up again and in going the short distance of two miles we ascend nearly 3,000 feet to the station, bearing the title of "Dutch Flat." From this point we again commence descending, tion of 2,400 at "Colfax." This rapid descent from Dutch Flat to Colfax reminded me of the sudden fall of a certain individual who had reached the next ment, and who let his love of money has no tired team to look after and care for and urge on. The iron horse with his usual supply of water and fuel will tired. He may sometimes break down or jump the track, but he never com-plains. We had to make the trip over these California mountains in the night time, both in going and returning. Morning dawned upon us before we reached Sacramento, where we took breaklast, on Saturday morning the fifth day out from Kansas City. Long before we arrived at Sacramento we re-(wheat and bacley) and wine, by the vinevards and grain fields that skirted the railroad. At one station, Rocklin, we noticed large buildings used, as we ascertained, for fruit packing. From this station and other points along the road east of Sacramento, the fruit grower and buyers of this portion of There was one peculiarity of the struck me at the first view, and that was its "golden hue." Everything except the trees and vineyards looked to an old Californian from near San Diego, who was on the train, and his answer was, "Yes, the pastures look brown and the grass is dry, it is well cured hay, and to satisfy yourself of the fact. I shall mention this peculiarity of the California landscape, when I come to speak more particularly of the growth of the state.
